

FEMA

Disaster News

November 23, 2007
DR-1731-CA NR-47
FEMA/OES: 626-431-3178
SBA: 916-216-9915

$9.7 MILLION IN THE HANDS OF CALIFORNIA WILDFIRE VICTIMS More than $38 million approved for SBA loans

PASADENA, Calif. — One month after President Bush signed a disaster declaration, $9.7 million is in the hands of California wildfire victims who live in the disaster-designated counties of Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside, San Bernardino, San Diego, Santa Barbara, and Ventura.

Individual assistance (for disaster victims) is available in the counties listed above as well as public assistance (for state, county and local governments) for emergency work such as debris removal and reimbursement for protective measures. President Bush amended the Oct. 24 declaration on Nov. 8 to allow the counties of Orange, San Bernardino and San Diego to apply for assistance for public work, such as road repair, public utilities, public buildings, and public parks.

- Disaster assistance summary:
 - $6.9 million - Housing assistance for rental expenses, home repair or replacement.
 - $2.8 million - Other needs assistance for losses and damage to personal property; vehicle repair or replacement; moving expenses; and other disaster-related costs.
 - $38 million – SBA low-interest loans approved.
- 17,776 have registered for state and federal disaster assistance online at www.fema.gov or by phone at 1-800-621-FEMA (3362) or TTY 1-800-462-7585. Phone lines are open from 5 a.m. to 10 p.m., daily.
- The deadline to apply for federal and state disaster assistance has been extended to Jan. 9, 2008.
- 7,566 home inspections have been completed in the disaster-designated counties.
- 13,068 people have visited assistance centers seeking disaster assistance and mitigation information in English and many other languages. The U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) representatives are also onsite to assist with loan applications for homeowners, renters and business owners. A complete list of centers follows this release.
- 16,677 residents and 4,585 businesses have received disaster assistance information from FEMA's Community Relations teams.
- A grant of $822,438 has been approved for the California Department of Mental Health for crisis-counseling services for victims of the recent Southern California wildfires. Crisis counseling is available for those who live or work in disaster-affected counties. Hotline numbers are:

Los Angeles	(800) 854-7771
Orange	(866) 830-6011
Riverside	(800) 706-7500
San Bernardino	(888) 743-1478
San Diego	(800) 479-3339
Santa Barbara	(888) 868-1649
Ventura	(800) 671-0887

Page 2 of 2 – $9.7 MILLION IN THE HANDS OF CALIFORNIA WILDFIRE VICTIMS

More than $38 million approved for SBA loans

- People living or working in the seven disaster-designated counties whose jobs were affected by the California wildfires may be eligible for Disaster Unemployment Assistance (DUA) from the California State Employment Development Department. The deadline to apply is Nov. 26.

The fastest and easiest option for individuals to file claims for DUA benefits is on-line at <http://www.edd.ca.gov/fleclaim.htm>.

Claimants can also file by telephone:

English.....	1-800-300-5616
Spanish.....	1-800-326-8937
Cantonese.....	1-800-547-3506
Mandarin.....	1-866-303-0706
Vietnamese.....	1-800-547-2058
TTY (non-voice).....	1-800-815-9387

- The California State Bar has a legal assistance hotline at 1-866-636-9041. Wildfire victims can call the line with disaster-related basic legal questions such as those on replacing lost documents, housing-landlord-tenant disputes, and insurance issues.
- The U.S. Small Business Administration Disaster Loan Outreach Center in San Bernardino has relocated to the Office of the Fire Marshall, 620 South E Street. Hours are: Mon.– Fri. 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and closed on the weekends.

FEMA coordinates the federal government’s role in preparing for, preventing, mitigating the effects of, responding to, and recovering from all domestic disasters, whether natural or man-made, including acts of terror.

The California Governor's Office of Emergency Services (OES) coordinates overall state-agency response to major disasters in support of local government. OES is also responsible for maintaining the State Emergency Plan and coordinating California's preparedness, mitigation and recovery efforts.

Disaster recovery assistance is available without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, disability, English proficiency or economic status. If you or someone you know has been discriminated against, you should call FEMA toll-free at 1-800-621-FEMA (3362). For TTY call 1-800-462-7585.

SBA is the federal government’s primary source of money for the long-term rebuilding of disaster-damaged private property. SBA helps homeowners, renters, businesses of all sizes, and private non-profit organizations fund repairs or rebuilding efforts, and cover the cost of replacing lost or disaster-damaged personal property. These disaster loans cover uninsured and uncompensated losses and do not duplicate benefits of other agencies or organizations. For information about SBA programs, applicants may call 800-659-2955.

Temporary housing assistance from FEMA does not require that an applicant file for an SBA loan. However, an applicant must complete an SBA loan application to be eligible for additional assistance under the part of the Other Needs Assistance (ONA) program that covers personal property, vehicle repair or replacement, and moving and storage expenses. There are other ONA grants such as public transportation expenses, medical and dental expenses, and funeral and burial expenses that do not require individuals to apply for an SBA loan to be eligible. FEMA will process applications for housing assistance regardless of whether the applicant has applied for an SBA loan, and eligibility determinations for applicants requesting FEMA’s temporary housing assistance will not be held up because the applicant has or has not filled out an SBA application.

###

Attachment: Assistance Centers, Southern California Wildfires